○ The perfect companion to any of your recycled/reclaimed furniture, this elegant floral ogee wallcovering pattern replicates an old time-worn linen fabric. You can find this pattern in the "Tapestry" collection by Seabrook Designs.

○ Folly Gray from "The Mary Douglas Drysdale Signature Color Collection" offered by Casart Coverings™ is a wonderful shade of gray blended with green, giving it the advantages of a neutral and the edge of color. Elegant and welcoming, it creates a relaxing mood and can be used in any room.

○ Laurence Llewelyn-Bowen "Plush" from Graham & Brown continues a successful partnership that spans over a decade. The new collection, "Plush Flock," is a capsule collection of four new elegant flock designs, available in a sumptuous color palette, each named in Laurence's own inimitable risqué style. Encapsulating Laurence's love for fine art, history and his passion for beautiful wall decoration, the collection features real flock detailing for the ultimate extravagant look. The pattern shown is Swirly Wurly.

The colors were chosen by Drysdale, one of the most well-known designers in America, to reflect colors she's commonly used in her own projects, ranging from Jefferson Yellow (an energetic welcoming color) and Oushak Orange (a warm color evoking the charm of distance places) to French

Blue (a lively, self-confident hue) and Folly Gray (a relaxing neutral shade).

"They are bright and bold, and because they're easy to install and remove, will be a hit among homeowners and apartment dwellers who might be afraid of using color," said Ashley Spencer, founder of Casart Coverings. "The collection features more contemporary designs, geometric patterns and flashback to '50s plus exotic decorative finishes."
